Preparation for the Professional in Human Resources (PHR®) and Senior Professional in Human Resources (SPHR®) Examinations

Last chance with SHRM materials!

Beginning January 1, 2015 SHRM will offer a new certification learning system. Take advantage now and enroll in our fall quarter course to prepare for the January 2015 exam and be grandfathered in to the existing certification requirements! See reverse side for more details!

Our prep courses use the current SHRM Learning System materials, which are specifically geared toward the PHR®/SPHR® bodies of knowledge, and is well-suited to the student who prefers a structured, directed classroom approach to studying for either of the exams.

The course follows a "study roadmap" designed to gradually introduce new subject matter while reinforcing material learned earlier to help students retain concepts over time and maximize their performance on test day.

Motivational and test-taking strategies are covered throughout the course, and towards the end instructors work with students to design an individualized final review plan leading up to their test date.

During the fall 2014 quarter, SHRM will continue to support the current certification preparation courses for the PHR®/SPHR® designations.

New for 2015—SHRM Certification

During the fall of 2014, SHRM will continue to support certification preparation courses for PHR®/SPHR® designations, such as the one being offered by UCLA Extension. If you earn these credentials you will also be eligible to add the new SHRM certification to your list of credentials free of charge from January 1—December 31, 2015. Earning an HR credential is a sign of commitment and dedication to the HR profession.

Beginning in 2015, SHRM will offer its new certification supported with the SHRM Learning System®. The new SHRM certification recognizes that HR professionals are at the core of leading organizational success. It is built upon one singular body of knowledge designed to elevate the HR profession around the world. It ensures that the HR professional possesses the relevant HR knowledge required for today’s workplace plus it tests HR competencies—the ability to put knowledge to work through critical thinking and application.

Ready to get certified?
If you are ready to become a certified HR professional, we encourage you to take advantage of our prep course being offered this fall (see reverse for details).

Note:
The HR Certification Institute requires HR professionals sitting for the PHR or SPHR exams to have a combination of demonstrated work experience and education. Eligibility is determined by the HR Certification Institute. If you wish to take the PHR or SPHR exam, you must complete a separate application form online through the HR Certification Institute.

Neither the SHRM Learning System nor this course is a substitute for the certification examination. Students are solely responsible for verifying their eligibility to sit for the exam directly with HRCI. For more information on eligibility, exam dates, or to apply to take the exam, see hrcl.org

As a certified professional you will also be eligible to add the new SHRM certification to your list of credentials at no cost beginning January 1, 2015. If you do not pass your exam prior to January 2015 and you purchased the current SHRM Learning System®, SHRM will provide the updated 2015 SHRM Learning System® for the new SHRM certification at no cost in preparation for the new exam.

Already Certified?
You will not lose or have to give up an of your current credentials in order to obtain the new SHRM certification.

What does it all mean?
If you are currently preparing to take the PHR®/SPHR® exam or are enrolling in our fall quarter prep course to take the exam in January you may keep your current status if you pass the exam. If you do not pass the exam, then you are eligible to receive the new SHRM Learning System® materials at no cost to you in order to re-take the exam at a later date.
